

Nanhai Citizen's Plaza and Thousand Lantern Park

Nanhai Citizen's Plaza and Thousand Lantern Park is a 97-hectare mixed use/urban corridor in the new city of Nanhai, in the Pearl River Delta area of southern China. This urban corridor consists of a commercial precinct, hotel precinct, public parklands, streetscapes and a museum arranged around a series of lakes and waterways which act as the park's transportation corridor. The centerpiece of the park is "Citizen's Plaza" a public gathering space linking the park to a proposed City Hall.

Location

Nanhai, Guangdong Province, China

Client

Guangdong Nanhai Planning Bureau

SWA Scope

Master Planning
Design Development
Landscape Architecture

Size

97 hectares

Awards

ASLA Texas Chapter Merit Award,
Design Constructed, Public