

Stanford University Library Fountain

SWA Group provided landscape design services for this sculptural fountain which serves as a focal point for the campus in front of the Stanford Library. The fountain consists of an armature of circular red pipe with a water curtain effect that reinforces the shape of the armature. Terraced steps around the pool provide informal seating for students and visitors.

Location

Stanford, California

Client

Stanford University / HOK Architects

SWA Scope

Landscape architectural services

Architect

HOK Architects

Ernest J. Kump and Associates, Architects