

Stanford University Meyer-Buck Estate

Location
Stanford, California

Client
Stanford university

SWA Scope
Development plan
Historical landscape restoration
Full landscape architectural services

Size
3 acres

Architect
Page & Turnbull, Architects

The three-acre estate maintains a mansion built around 1920 in the French Mediterranean style and was surrounded by a mature, yet somewhat neglected landscape. SWA was asked to work with Page & Turnbull Architects on a three-acre portion of the site for the future residence of the provost. SWA's role in this project was to inject function back into this once spectacular landscape by creating new gardens and a great lawn based on historical precedents.

